

Back At...

“Back-At” is a poster for use in the office or home to advise visitors that you are away and will be returning back at a specified time.

It consists of a clockface cut-out which is printed onto paper and then pasted onto cardboard or laminated, and two hands (either hand shapes or arrows) which are also printed onto paper, pasted onto cardboard or laminated and then cut-out. The hands are then fastened to the centre of the clockface with a paper fastener. Two holes can be punched in the top as marked and a ribbon (for hanging) threaded through and tied.

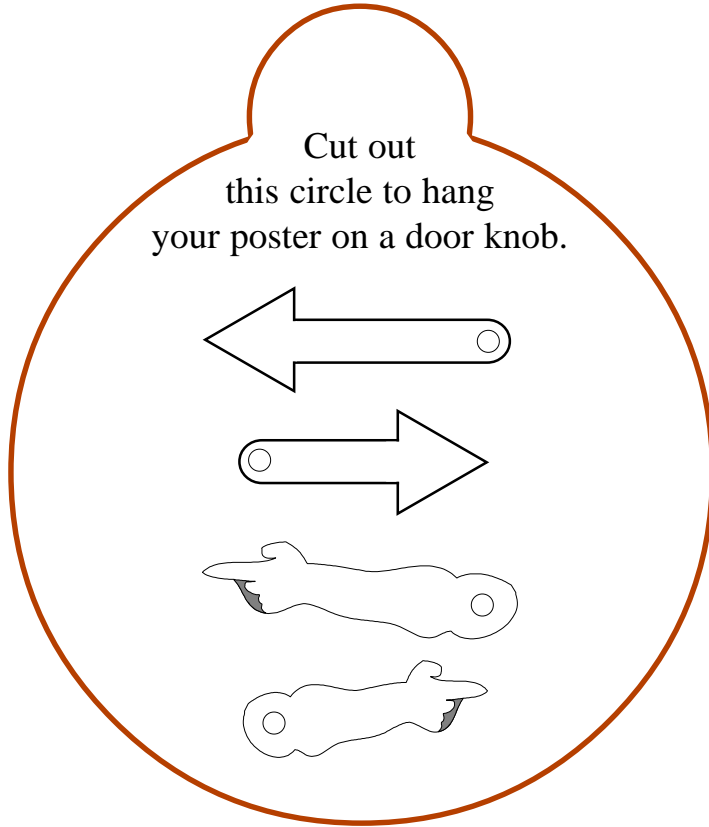

The next page contains the same poster with provision to hang it on a door knob.

We hope you find this “freebie” from FreEzine Magazine useful.

—Lionel Hartley, Editor.

Cut out
this circle to hang your poster on a door knob.

Back At...

Poster by FreEzine
<lionelhartley
@bigpond.com>

©2004
Lionel
Hartley

Sorry for any inconvenience.